

Award of Distinction Given to Starkey CEO

Bill Austin, founder and CEO of Starkey Labs, received an Award of Distinction from the University of Minnesota recently in recognition of his many contributions to society and to the University. The event was held at the University's Eastcliff Administration building.

Patricia Simmons, MD, vice chairman of the Board of Regents at the University of Minnesota and a pediatrician at the Mayo Clinic (left) and Deborah E. Powell, MD, dean of the University of Minnesota's Medical School (right) present Starkey founder and CEO William F. Austin with an Award of Distinction.

advance RELATED SITES